WARRANT ISSUED FOR ABRAMS AS BOND EMBEZZLER

City and County Attorney
Brown Files Complaint in Circuit Court This Morning

JUDGE ASHFORD ISSUES WARRANT FOR ARREST

Alleged That Secretary of Hawaiian Trust Company Embezzled Kauai Railway Bond
From Cordelia C. Hartwell

Louis Abrams, secretary and a director of the Hawaiian Trust Company, apparently has not made to the other directors of the company the satisfactory explanation of an alleged shortage of $25,000 which brought him back from the coast last Tuesday.

A warrant for his arrest was issued shortly before noon today.

It is understood that Abrams will be up before Judge Ashford next Monday, though the warrant ordered him produced at 1:30 this afternoon. This was said to be not obligatory.

Abrams was given 24 hours, it has been reported, after his return from the coast to prove his innocence to the trust company. He arrived on Tuesday. That night the company made a brief statement in which it stated its position as wishing to give its trustee ample full opportunity to clear himself. Since Tuesday neither the trust company nor Abrams' attorney, Robert W. Breckons, has given out any news of developments, but the issuance of the warrant today is taken to mean that Abrams failed to satisfy the company on the score of the alleged shortage.

It was known last Tuesday that one of the accounts in which shortages were apparent was that of the Galbreath estate. The trust company announced that the accounts of only two clients were involved. The complaint filed in circuit court today gives the name of the other as Cordelia C. Hartwell, who is a sister of former Governor George R. Carter. Mr. Carter is a member of the directorate of the Hawaiian Trust Company.

In the complaint, which was filed in circuit court by Arthur M. Brown, city and county attorney, at 11:30 o'clock this morning, Louis Abrams, secretary of the Hawaiian Trust Company, is charged with embezzlement. It is alleged that he fraudulently disposed of a Kauai Railway bond valued at $1000, the proceeds of which he appropriated.

Several weeks ago the Hawaiian Trust Company discovered in Mr. Abrams' accounts a shortage believed to aggregate about $25,000. Mr. Abrams, who then was on the main-

GARDEN ISLAND ALL READY FOR GUESTS TO LAND

Maui and Hawaii Delegations to Big Convention Arrive;
Make Start Tonight

With the departure of the Kinau but a few hours distant, interest in the Kaula Civic Convention is today growing intense. When the Mauna Kea dropped anchor at her wharf this morning she carried with her a lively group of people—representatives from both Hawaii and Maui.

The Kinau which also got in this morning from Kaula brought, as one of her passengers, L. D. Timmons, secretary of the Kaula Chamber of Commerce, who has come over to spend the day here looking for the final details necessary to make the convention a complete success.

Mr. Timmons will accompany the crowd back tonight and when the boat docks at Nawiliwili in the morning, a large delegation of committee-men, civilians, and bandmen will be at the landing to welcome their brothers from the three other islands.

Mr. Timmons says that everything has been done on the Garden Island that can be done to make the convention a success and he believes that a good time is assured to all who go.

"We believe that the discussions on civic questions will all be helpful," says Mr. Timmons, "and then for recreation after the talks are over we have various trips and excursions planned. A large number of automobiles will be constantly on hand for the use of the visiting delegates."

"The excursion trips," says Mr. Timmons, "have been planned to include practically all the available sights of the island. We will visit the spouting horn, Kukulano park, Olokele and Waimea canyons, and the barking sands. One trip is planned to Hanaui for those that care to participate. These trips will be made on Sunday afternoon and Monday morning."

Mr. Maui delegation has expressed the desire to cooperate with the local Ad Club in any stunts in which it can be of help. "We brought along 15 delegates, just to show you we could."

MORE OFFICERS' QUARTERS GO UP AT KAMEHAMEHA

Cablegram From Washington
Last Night Authorizes
Spending $25,000

ONE POUND "POM-POMS" TO BE GIVEN TRY-OUT

Vickers-Maxim Field Piece Being Used By British at Dardanelles to Have Test Here

Work will be started at once on the construction of eight new officers' quarters, storehouses and other buildings at Fort Kamehameha, the construction of quarters at the office here announced today, following the receipt last night of a cablegram from the war department, authorizing the work which will cost the government nearly $25,000.

According to Lieut. Col. B. Frank Cheatham, who has been closely in touch with the situation, although his successor, Lieut. Col. James B. Houston, who arrived on the last transport, is now in charge of the office, the additional buildings will be constructed by purchase and hire, so that no bids will be advertised for.

The quartermaster's office will supervise construction, and no work will be done on the buildings by soldiers of the fort.

"We will probably start the placing of foundations at once," said Lieut. Col. Houston this morning. "No contract will be let for the work, as we will hire men who can do it and get it done as soon as possible."

As soon as the "made" land back of Fort Armstrong is filled in as a result of the harbor dredging operations, it is expected that the war department will provide better and larger quarters for the men stationed at this fort, as the present quarters are cramped and far from ideal. The new buildings will probably not be built at Armstrong for at least a year, however.

Practice With "Pom-Pom" Guns.
Extensive target practice with the "one-pounders," the Vickers-Maxim field piece which was dubbed the "pom-pom" in the Boer war, and which military strategists claim enabled Great Britain to conquer the Boers, will be held next month at Fort Armstrong, about October 15. Capt. F. M. Hinkle, commandant of the fort, announced today.

"These guns are automatic, and throw a bullet weighing one pound, and a little over one inch in diameter," said Capt. Hinkle. "They fire an explosive shell and are really a big machine gun, their chief advantage being in repelling landing parties, shelling small boats, and the like. They can fire as high as 60 shots a minute and are a mighty effective weapon."

For two weeks preliminary to target practice with the one-pound rifles, which weigh, with their limbers and carriages, about a ton each, the men of Fort Armstrong will be trained in special preliminary drill. The shots will be fired at a moving target out at sea 3000 feet from the fort, and only one day, perhaps two, will be devoted to actual firing.

The rifles fire a belt of cartridges at a time and can be adjusted so they will shoot without the necessity of pulling the trigger at each shot. They are now being used by British expeditionary forces in the Dardanelles and elsewhere and are said to be doing highly efficient work.

Only a week's more work of mine planting practice remains at the fort, before the mine planter Major Ringgold gets ready to go back to her home station at Seattle. From Monday until Thursday Capt. Hinkle and the two officers who have assisted him in practice operations, Lieuts. T. D. Sloan and H. Zornig, will have the 10th company at Pearl Harbor, where mine practice similar to that held off the fort here will be carried on, to familiarize the men with working conditions there.

"This year's practice has been very successful," said Capt. Hinkle today. "In service mine practice last Thursday the company made a record of 100 per cent. 'We will keep on with practice until the Ringgold has to prepare for her voyage homeward.'"

BATTLE RAGING AT THREE POINTS IN EAST ARENA; GERMANS NEARING DVINSK

U. S. SHARPLY INSISTS DR. DUMBA BE RECALLED

QUEEN RECEIVES
FIFTEEN FLAGS
AND BAND PLAYS

Nations, States and Colonies
Bordering on West Oceans
Represented at Ceremonies

Despite a day of showers and lowering flags, the first part of the Pan-Pacific Flag Day exercises—the formal presentation of flags of Pacific states and nations on the capitol grounds, is being held this afternoon.

At 2 o'clock the Australian contingent marched down to the capitol steps from the main gateway and presented the first flag to Queen Liliuokalani. The Australian women represented the stars of the Southern Cross, and the young girls representing the states were loudly cheered as they presented the first flag to the queen. The delegation from the southern continent was followed by representatives of other states and countries bordering the Pacific, carrying the flags of their homes.

Her Majesty Queen Liliuokalani, assisted by Princess Kaiulani, Mrs. John Lane and Mrs. A. G. M. Robertson received the flags as they were presented to her by the delegations as they reached the throne on the steps of the capitol building. Among the male dignitaries who assisted were Governor Pinkham, Chief Justice Robertson, Mayor John Lane, Hon. Charles Chillingworth, Admiral Boush and Maj. Gen. Carter.

Flags from 15 different states and countries were presented and the representatives in the national costumes of their homes furnished a charming and unique setting as they marched to the throne to the tune of their national airs, played by the Hawaiian band.

Washington delegates were dressed as Indians, the New Zealand contingent dressed as Maoris, and the men of Japan were represented by the cadets of the Taisei Maru. Hawaii was represented by the Kamehameha cadets and as they marched to the throne the Mary Becking Hawaiian flag was unfolded. The Portuguese presented a pretty picture as the young ladies, dressed in the style of Madeira, presented the flag while the band played the Portuguese national air.

Among the flags presented to the queen this afternoon were those of Australia, New Zealand, Japan, China, the Philippines, Korea, Washington, Oregon, California, Pan-America, Canada, Spain, Portugal and Hawaii.

Mayor Lane, who looked after the arrangements, and assisted in the work, was thorough in his efforts to make the flag presentation a success from every viewpoint. As the different delegations marched to the steps to the music of the Royal Hawaiian band the crowd expressed its approval with lusty cheers.

The flag will be formally presented to the Pan-Pacific Club at the dinner to be given at the Y. M. C. A. this evening, when a five-minute talk will be made by a representative of each nationality giving a flag to the club. The banners are to be taken to the Kaula Civic Convention.

LETTERS THANK HONOLULANS FOR AID TO CHINESE

Relief Funds Cabled to Flood-
Swept Districts This Summer
Helped to Fight Famine

Acknowledging receipt of approximately $5100 sent from the Chinese Christian Union during the summer to the relief of the sufferers in the flood-swept districts of China, two letters have been received recently by the Bank of Hawaii and by Bishop & Company.

The letter to the Bank of Hawaii, which institution sent out about half of the $5100 through Yap Kwai Pong, was sent from China by Yee Wah Sun, a Chinese in Canton who has been doing much in aid of his suffering countrymen.

To Bishop & Company who sent an equal sum through Ho Fon, one of the tellers, acknowledgment of the money was forwarded by C. A. Nelson, who with his family saw much of the floods in Canton and helped in the case of those who suffered from the high water.

A third letter and one of more personal interest, has just been received from Mr. Nelson by C. E. Al, manager of the City Mill Company. Mr. Nelson and Mr. Al have long been warm friends, Mr. Nelson having visited in Honolulu two different times when going to and from the Orient. He is a prominent and much respected missionary in Canton.

Mr. Nelson's letter follows:

The following cablegram
from official German sources
was received today:

"German Army Headquarters, Report for September 24.—Southwest of Hemmewalen the villages of Rose and Strigge, which were temporarily evacuated by the Germans, were reconquered. Near Duenaberg and northeast of Snelina further Russian positions were stormed. About 1000 Russians were taken prisoner.

"The German forces near Wilejka operating on the flank of the retreating Russians have met fierce fighting and the strong Russian attacks had a temporary success there. Some guns were lost, the crews of which worked until the last moment.

"The German front is in hot pursuit of the enemy beyond Soly Olszanytraki. Prince Leopold's armies have broken the enemy's resistance along the whole front and reached in the pursuit near Sereth and toward Korellini and Szczara. Northwest of Krasim and further south there is fighting with the enemy's rear guard, where 100 Russians were taken in outpost positions.

"Gen. von Mackensen's armies, northeast and east of Logishin were taken back behind the Oginski canal at Ja-

LEADERS ALL WIN.

For the first time in two months all six leaders of the two leagues won their games on the same day, and Detroit who is making a vain effort to win out, won a doubleheader from Washington. In the National League, New York who occupied last place this morning won today, and thereby jumped to a tie for fourth place in the race. The finish of the cellar leaders should be the best in the history of the games as few teams are separated by only a few points, and the team in fourth place the day before the season ends may go to the last position on the close of the race.

"Darling" Dies When Deserted By His Mistress

Toy Dog Smuggled in By Mrs.
Wakefield Grieves Because Not Taken on Honeymoon

"Darling" is dead. The tiny Japanese "toy dog" owned by Mrs. Frank Wakefield, who was Mrs. Edith Spreckels of California, died at the animal quarantine station, Ala Moana road, on September 15. There were no services. Mrs. Wakefield was not there. The remains went where the remains of all good dogs go who die at the animal quarantine station.

The keeper of the quarantine station said today that "Darling" died of internal trouble, brought about because the "toy dog" had refused to eat. Others believe that the dog died of plain loneliness, from the fact that, after it was placed in the station, its mistress failed to pay any attention to it.

When Mrs. Wakefield, then Mrs. Spreckels, arrived in Honolulu last July, a few weeks before her marriage last month, she smuggled "Darling" ashore in a handbag, which is against the quarantine law. Local officials joined in a lively chase to the Moana hotel and there took the dog from Mrs. Wakefield and placed it in the animal quarantine station.

"Darling" was an affectionate pup and seemed to miss his mistress keenly," said the keeper of the station today. "After the dog was placed in the station Mrs. Wakefield did not come near the place. She did not even telephone and inquire about 'Darling.' On many occasions 'Darling' refused to eat. About the only time he would eat was when my wife would feed him."

Mrs. Wakefield and her husband left for the Orient on August 28. The former did not even go to the station and bid goodbye to her pet, let alone endeavor to make arrangements to take "Darling" with her on her honeymoon. Probably she forgot all about the dog.

BRUGGE—FRENCH ARTILLERY ACTIVITY SUCCESSFUL

(Associated Press Service by Federal Wireless)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 25.—The United States with sharp insistence is repeating its representations to the Austrian government that Dr. Constantin Theodor Dumba, the Austrian ambassador, is persona non grata to this country and must be recalled.

Following the revelation of Dr. Dumba's implication in plots to harass American munitions and manufacturing, the United States requested the recall of the ambassador. Dr. Dumba cabled to the foreign office a request that he be granted a leave of absence. Now the American ambassador at Vienna, Frederick Courtland Penfield, has been instructed to make it entirely clear to the Austrian government that the United States insist on the recall of Dr. Dumba. Ambassador Penfield is ordered to state that a leave of absence for the ambassador will be thoroughly unsatisfactory to the American government.

Russians Try to Hold Enemy Back

LONDON, England, Sept. 25.—The Russian position in the Vilna salient has improved in the past two days, due to the vigorous counter offensive the Slavs have launched in several places. Furthermore three simultaneous victories are reported on the Galician frontier, where the Slavs and Austrians are battling. These victories are mitigating the supposed success of the Teutonic Allies in winning over Bulgaria, but further north from Vilna the situation is less favorable. It is feared that Gen. von Hindenberg's strong army has reached the outer positions of Novo Alexandrovsk.

German Damage in England Estimated

LONDON, England, Sept. 25.—A special committee reported to the treasury department as to the extent of the damage and loss of life of the aerial raids made by the Germans previous to June 15, and also including the bombardment of Hartlepool, Scarborough and Whitby by German cruisers many months ago. The committee reported 697 claims for personal injury, of which 178 were fatalities, and over $100,000 claims for property damage already investigated.

British Warships Bombard Zeebrugge

AMSTERDAM, Netherlands, Sept. 25.—British warships have again bombarded the Flanders coast in the vicinity of Zeebrugge, where the Germans have been trying to develop a naval base. Three warships are engaged in the bombardment. The flash of the guns last night was visible along the Dutch coast.

Greece Rapidly Mobilizing Troops

RANCHMAN AND COOK STAND OFF FOURTEEN MEXICANS, KILL TWO

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless)
BROWNSVILLE, Tex., Sept. 25.—A millionaire ranchman, J. B. Allen, and his cook, together fought off 14 Mexican bandits who attacked them at the ranch house of the Hidalgo Ranch, killing two and wounding three of the outlaws.

Two detachments of troops are now pursuing the fleeing bandits. The coolness of the two men on the ranch saved their lives. Allen had a rifle and a shotgun and used these with deadly effect, the cook reloading the weapons as they were emptied.
